"If we accept that sound is vibration and we know that vibration touches every part of our physical being, then we understand that sound is heard not only through our ears but through every cell in our bodies. One reason sound heals on a physical level is because it so deeply touches and transforms us on the emotional and spiritual planes. Sound can redress imbalances on every level of physiologic functioning and can play a positive role in the treatment of virtually any medical disorder."

Dr. Mitchell Gaynor, director of Medical Oncology and Integrative Medicine, at Cornell Cancer Prevention Center, NY

Tibetan singing bowls have been used throughout history since the time of the Buddha Shakyamuni (560-480 B.C.) Singing bowls create a vibration that stimulates alpha-theta waves in the brain. This state of relaxation connects our subconscious and conscious awareness, it engages both hemispheres of the brain at the same time and improves concentration and memory. Scientific research has found that healing mechanisms of the body increase when the brain is functioning in alpha-theta wave states.

Everything in our universe has a vibration and therefore a sound. These frequencies may be so small or far away that we are unable to physically hear them. All of the cells in your body are constantly vibrating. We can absolutely communicate with ourselves on a cellular level by understanding this concept. We have all heard the saying 'mind over matter' and have seen the tremendous healing power of the placebo effect. Vibratory input is constantly changing the resonance of our cells – all noise creates physiological changes and impacts the nervous system. You feel physically different depending on the sounds around you: listening to two people having a screaming match, nails on the chalk board, beautiful harp music or peaceful recitations of prayers.

During this meditative experience we will begin by having an introductory talk. We will discuss the chakras and your energy system and reflect on the purposes of each chakra. When the discussion has ended we will begin the journey into sound healing using a variety of Tibetan singing bowls, a crystal bowl and a gong. I will be using bowls that have a dominant tone set to stimulate each individual chakra. This will align your energy body and create a clear and peaceful experience that has a lasting effect of inner peace and awareness.

Free Workshop for Ethical Wills

Free Workshop for Ethical Wills

An ethical will, sometimes called an ethical legacy, is a document written to preserve and pass along key wisdom, life lessons and personal meaning. Usually, the person who writes an ethical will is striving to provide loved ones with a snapshot of what has been important in their life. An ethical will is not a legally binding document and is not intended as a way to distribute property or money. However, ethical wills are becoming increasingly important as the population ages and more individuals are becoming pro-active about the end stages of their life. Excellent examples will also be presented.

This is an invigorating, athletic practice that is steeped in tradition. No previous yoga experience is required. The sun salutation is at the heart of the practice, tying breath to movement and bringing vitality and mobility to every part of the body. Interwoven with the sun salutation, we explore a set sequence of poses that we return to in each class. From simple forward folds to complex arm balances and inversions, the goal in the practice is to create alignment in the body that allows comfort and ease. Along the way, students will have opportunities to sweat, to laugh, to stretch, to strengthen, to explore their limits, and to expand their boundaries.

Becky has studied and practiced many styles of yoga over the past decade. In the Ashtanga Vinyasa style, Becky has found her voga home. She is honored to share the teachings of Ashtanga with students at Taspen's. When she is not teaching yoga, Becky is likely to be hanging out with her kids, gardening, cooking, or reading.

Value

Compare the value of print advertising to word of mouth advertising. Most people are more comfortable doing business with individuals known to them or their friends. This is a great way to increase your word of mouth advertising and develop repeat business.

Great Referrals

A good referral offers the opportunity to do business with someone who is known to be in the market to buy your product or service. Referrals are not guaranteed sales; however they offer an opportunity to meet face to face with someone who is already interested in your product or service. Referrals build on your existing prospecting efforts. This expanded network is a great opportunity to add to your database of potential business.

Get Involved

The chamber leads groups are a good way to get involved with other local business people and embers can provide access to clients you would not otherwise be able to contact. Also, members have the opportunity to advertise what specials, opportunities, and products or services they have to offer. Leads groups are a great way to create new business and generate new leads! This class is inspired by various elements of Power, Vinyasa, Forrest, Tantra, Anusara, and Sridaiva. Inversions, partner poses, chanting, and pranayama will also be explored. This class is perfect for those who like to have fun while practicing, and may make you sweat! ;)

About Laurie:

Laurie began practicing yoga in 2006, and in November, 2010 received her 200 hour yoga certification from Karma Yoga Center in Denver, Colorado. Laurie found yoga while on a quest for attaining optimal health, and fell in love at first savasana. She looks at yoga as a holistic health method practiced to heal and balance the mind, body, and spirit. Creating a unique yogic journey in every class, her inspiration is derived primarily from her many teachers, chakra healing, astrology, yoga philosophy, and of course her students. Laurie teaches an alignment-based vinyasa practice, incorporating pranayama (breath work), meditation, chanting, and challenging asanas sometimes including core work, inversions, and partner poses. Her passion is inspiring students to find their edge, explore outside of their comfort zone, and take their practice off their mats and into the world!

Laurie has continued her education throughout the years with a plethora of alignment, inversion, meditation, anatomy, adjustment and other various yoga workshops. Additionally, she has a solid personal practice she's held for nine years. Her inspiration is derived from a combination of many yogic traditions including Tantra, Forrest, Anusara, Sridaiva, and Power. Some of the teachers who inspire and motivate her are Cheryl Deer, Ian Maxwell, Crystal Hinton, Carrie Varela, Stacey Swerer, Matthew Dolezal, Mike Matsumara, Shiva Rea, John Friend, and many more.

Private Lessons:

Laurie is also available for private lessons and classes. Private yoga lessons are highly recommended for beginning yoga students who would like consultation and guidance on their practice and to build confidence for practicing yoga in a group setting; anyone who desires to relieve and heal injury or chronic pain; or yoga practitioners who would like to take their practice to the next level. All private lessons are geared directly towards fulfilling students' needs and goals, and students will be provided with invaluable practical information on how to heal and balance the body, mind, and spirit through physical movement, breath work, and meditation. Please feel free to contact Laurie with any questions regarding your yoga goals.

Jul 01 Evergreen Lake Summer Concert Series

Evergreen Lake, the centerpiece of this mountain community, is home to a free concert series on Wednesday nights throughout the summer. The open-air concerts, with the rustic log-hewn Lake House as a backdrop, run from 5-10 pm every other week, featuring a variety of music from local students to rock to jazz.

Families and friends come to the Lake bearing picnic baskets, foldable chairs and blankets, or buy food and drink from a number of local vendors, while enjoying the music and watching the sun set.

The concerts are put on by Evergreen Lake Presents.
